THE OPENING OF ACADEMY SEASON

Te-morrow night will see the opening of the theatrical season in Richmond. The Academy has been undergoing the dusting and scrubbing process for the last ten days and will be found fresh and cool for the first performance of the season 1003-04.

The great Yale production of "The Devil's Auction" is the attraction that will open the house. The familiar title will be found the only old thing about the show for the management have been busy all summer making a brand new spectacle for this season. The transformation scenge will be found brilliant and novel and the ballets well trained and made up of shapely young women. The dear good fairy and the had fairy, the beautiful and good heroine and the love-sick hero, the devils, imps, etc., will all be there to delight especially the ladies and children at the Saturday matinee.

The show has had twenty-two years of success and it promises never to leave the boards.

success and it promises never to leave the boards.

The performance at the Academy, second in the long list of attractions, will be "McFadden's Row of Flats," made of good laughing stuff and plenty of bright, tuncful music. The company this year is double the size of any previous year and the specialties introduced will be found clever and well worth seeing.

Al. G. Fleid's Minstrels, which fills the Academy every season, will follow with matinee and night performances on Tuesday.

IMPORTANT ARREST

Alleged Leader of a Gang Was Taken In Charge.

In the capture of Cornellus Mayo alias "Sheepshead," the police feel that they have the leader of a gang who have been committing various robberles on Church committing various robberles on Church Hill.

Mayo was caught after a hot chase yesterday afternoon and landed in the First Station. He was detected in the act of entering the Presbyterian parsonage at Twenty-sixth and Brond Streets, by a colored girl, who informed Captain G. Watt, Taylor. The latter went quickly to the spot and had some trouble with the negro, who drew a razor on him. The negro made a quick retreat towards Twenty-fourth and Mosby Streets, where he was captured by two citizens, Messrs, Chiddick and Fleming. To attempted to get rid of the razor, but could not. The min was carried to Captain Taylor's store and held for the police.

The detectives from headquarters are working on the case and expect to place another charge against Mayo, and hope to land others of the gang.
